CAMBERWELL

WILLIAM SUGG

ESTD & CO. LTD 1837

The Camberwell is a traditional lantern widely used in the late 1800's. It has clear lower and opal upper glazing which provides a degree of upward light to softly illuminate building facias. The Camberwell lantern is handcrafted from copper with a decorative finial and tower set that are truly unique. The original design was created many years ago by William Sugg & Co. Ltd. and still looks as beautiful today as it did then.

The Camberwell is available in a variety of combinations and can be supplied with a door or a hinged lid. The lantern is frog mounted as standard and is designed to fit a 76mm spigot.

Features

- Available in one size - 16" (405mm). Please note all dimensions are approximate and subject to minor change.
- Controls: Our gas lanterns are available with a range of decorative open flame burners or high performance gas mantles.
- Lantern construction:
 - IP54.
 - Options of hinged lid or an access door.
 - The vertical glazing bars of the lantern frame are reinforced with stainless steel rods for structural integrity.
- Glazing: Glass panels available in various finishes including clear, opal and etched.
- Finish options: Durable and long-lasting polyester powder paint finishes in a full range of RAL colours. The lantern can also be supplied unfinished or polished in natural copper to develop a patina. Specialist finishes, including marine grade, are available on request.
- Single and two-part electronic photocells are available upon request.

Mounting options

- Frog mounted: A galvanised steel frog, with a polyester powder coated finish suitable for a bracket with a 76mm or 89mm spigot.
- Cradle mounted: A galvanised steel frame, powder coated and suitable for supporting the lantern on a wall or column bracket.
